Joined the team in 2020
BSc & MT: University of Toronto

Linda Lin joined the Schachar & Crosbie Lab in April 2020 as a Summer Research Student. She completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Toronto, specializing in Nutritional Sciences and Health & Disease. Linda has had many years of experience working with children and is excited to learn more about childhood neuropsychiatric disorders within a clinical setting. She looks forward to working alongside such a knowledgeable and dedicated team.
